Meet the Children

from Africa

Meet the children of Cornerstone Evangelistic Ministry. In the northern part of Kenya tribal clashes often leave children parentless. Many of them go to live with relatives, many of whom are poor and do not have the means to take care of these orphans' basic needs. These children often end up being exploited and hired out as cheap laborers. Some girls are married off at a very young age to older men as a way for families to get money. Timothy Kinyua's heart broke whenever a child came to his house and said, "Pastor, I've not eaten for days." Timothy and Cornerstone Evangelistic Ministry started a ministry to these parentless children, equipping a network of care-givers. The ministry helps provide food, clothing, access to education and vocational training. As they help take care of these orphans' basic needs, they share in word and in deed about Jesus's great and life-changing love.
